Introduction

Today: Standard 7, Vulnerable groups and Indigenous Peoples

The Standard outlines the responsibilities of the promoter in terms of assessing, managing and monitoring project impacts, risks, and opportunities related to Indigenous Peoples as well as persons or groups that are vulnerable, marginalised or discriminated against due to their socioeconomic characteristics.

There are many topics to discuss today. We are here to listen! Here are some of our questions...

Please share your views...

- Are the requirements of this Standard clear and attainable, specifically regarding the identification of vulnerable persons and/or groups and Indigenous Peoples?
- Do you see any possible challenges in the implementation of this Standard, in view of your local context?
- Will this Standard be effective in protecting the rights and interests of project-affected vulnerable persons and groups and Indigenous Peoples?
- Are the differences in the requirements for projects inside the EU and projects outside the EU clear?
- How clear are the requirements in indicating how the promoter should effectively take into account, and address, the vulnerability of different groups in the operations financed by the EIB?
- Are the EIB’s requirements for promoters outlined in this Standard inclusive and effectively take into account, and address, the vulnerability of different groups in its operations?
- Does the proposed definition of vulnerable persons and/or groups include the most relevant socioeconomic characteristics that may result in vulnerability?
- Are the proposed definition and related identification criteria provided for Indigenous Peoples adequate?
Standard 7: Vulnerable Groups and IPs

Addresses inequalities and other factors contributing to vulnerability, marginalisation and/or discrimination within the context of an EIB project;

Respects the rights and interests of vulnerable, marginalised or discriminated-against persons and groups, and Indigenous Peoples, including the right to nondiscrimination and the right to equal treatment between women and men

Fosters their effective participation in the design of project activities and mitigation measures by establishing an ongoing constructive relationship between them and promoters;

Promotes equitable sustainable development gains and opportunities for vulnerable, marginalised or discriminated-against persons and groups, and Indigenous Peoples.
Key changes

Clarifying the definition of vulnerability based on socioeconomic characteristics within project context;

Clarifying applicability as determined during the environmental and social impact assessment process for: (i) vulnerable persons and/or groups; (ii) Indigenous Peoples;

Emphasising the need for a gender-responsive approach, including considering gender-based violence and harassment;

Highlighting the critical need to consider differentiated measures for vulnerable groups in challenging contexts;

Specifying requirements for triggering and implementing Free, Prior, and Informed Consent (FPIC) process for projects affecting Indigenous Peoples.
Standard 7: Vulnerable Groups and IPs

Clarifying requirements regarding vulnerable groups: consistency of structure and language

EU, EFTA, CC & pCC
- clarifying the key legal requirements (EU legal framework being the benchmark) and the information to be provided to EIB to sufficiently demonstrate compliance with EU legislation*

Rest of the World
- translating the “principles of EU legislation” (“what does it mean”) into requirements

*The promoter may be asked to supplement the formal engagement process carried out by relevant competent authorities, or otherwise needed in relation to the requirements set out in the other EIB Environmental and Social Standards whenever applicable, with any action deemed necessary by the EIB.
Standard 7: Vulnerable Groups and IPs

Requirements for projects affecting Indigenous Peoples are applicable to all projects, whether in the EU or outside the EU, where IPs are present in, or have collective attachment to a proposed project area or an area that will be negatively impacted by the project.

Indigenous Peoples definition streamlined to refer exclusively to a distinct and/or vulnerable sociocultural group possessing all of the following characteristics:

- Self-identification as members of a distinct ethnic or cultural group and recognition of this identity by others; and,

- Collective attachment to geographically distinct habitats, ancestral lands, or areas of seasonal use or occupation, as well as to the natural resources in these areas and use thereof; and,

- Customary cultural, economic, social or political institutions, laws or regulations that are distinct or separate from those of the dominant society or culture; and

- A language or dialect, often different from the official language or languages of the country or region in which they reside.

Standard 7: Vulnerable Groups and IPs

Promoting the right to Free, Prior and Informed Consent (FPIC) where a project:

• affects the lands, territories or resources that IPs customarily own, occupy or otherwise use;

• relocates them from land and natural resources subject to traditional ownership or under customary use or occupation; or,

• significantly affects or exploits their cultural resources, whether tangible or intangible, or their ways of life.
